1. LITERATURE GUIDES AND RESEARCH METHODS

General

Balay, Robert. Guide to Reference. (Online) (2008)
[earlier edition: Avery Reference N 34 Sh3511]
Online version to Guide to Reference Books, a long respected annotated bibliography on reference tools in all subjects.

Art History

Freitag, W. Art Books: a Basic Bibliography of Monographs on Artists. (1997)
[Avery Reference N 35 F881]
Notes existence of catalogues raisonnés with a CR.

Jones, L.S. Art Information and the Internet: How to Find It, How to Use It. (1999)
[Avery Reference N59 J71]
Could be considered a revision of 1.5, except that it replaces much material with tips for searching for materials on art and art history on the Internet.

Jones, L.S. Art Information Research Methods and Resources. 3rd ed.(1990)
[Avery Reference N 35 J7211]
Good introduction to art resources. Two sections: research methodology and annotated bibliography. Includes definitions of corpora and festschriften (p. 49-50), and catalogues raisonnés and oeuvre catalogues (p. 23-24). Author/title/profession index.

Marmor, Max and Alex Ross. Guide to the literature of art history 2. (2005)
[Avery Reference N35 M34]
The standard annotated bibliographic guide in art history.
Please note that this is a supplement to: Arntzen, E. and R. Rainwater. Guide to the Literature of Art History. (1980)
[Avery Reference N 35 Ar664]

2. PRIMARY SOURCES

The following are anthologies of primary literary sources of western art history.

Art Theorists of the Italian Renaissance. (Online)
Collection of treatises on art and architecture from 1470 to 1775. Structured around the two Italian editions of Giorgio Vasari's Lives of the Artists.

Grosse Künstlerlexika vom 16. bis zum frühen 19. Jahrhundert. Ed. by Ulrich Schütte.
Microfiche collection.

[Avery Microfiche FX3 7775: Böhmen, Mähren und die Schweiz; FX3 7776: Italien; FX3 7777: Deutschland und Niederlande; FX3 7778: Frankreich, Spanien, England und Irland.]

60 early European biographical dictionaries of artists, and art encyclopedias from the 16th to the early 19th centuries.

Internationale Bibliographien zur Kunstliteratur zwischen 1500 und 1800. (1999)

167 microfiche, 1 guide

[Avery Microfiche FX3 7161]

Forty-two bibliographies of art literature published in Europe and the United States between 1500-1800.

Schlosser, Julius von. Die Kunstliteratur. (1924; reprint 1985)

[Avery Reference N 5940 ASch3]

Survey of early art literature from late antiquity to the 18th century. Best for the Renaissance. Includes bibliographies. Later editions in French and Italian with updated bibliographies follow.

_____. La Letteratura Artistica. Italian ed. updated by O. Kurz. (1964)

[Avery Reference N 5940 Asch3311]

This was long the standard edition and is still cited. Late antiquity up to the early 19th century. Again, strongest for Renaissance.

_____. La Littérature Artistique. French ed., updated. (1984)

[Avery Reference N 35 Sch395]

Bibliographically the most up-to-date, but least accurate edition. Use with caution.

Sources and Documents in the History of Art Series. (Prentice-Hall, 1965-1983)

See card catalog and [CLIO]

Anthologies of sources of Western art history in translation. Each vol. on a specific period, with scholarly introductions by authorities, e.g. C. Gilbert ed., Italian Art 1400-1500; R. Klein and H. Zerner eds., Italian Art 1500-1600; J.J. Pollitt, Art of Rome, c.753BC-AD377: sources and documents. Titles can be found in Avery card catalog and in CLIO by author, title and by series.

And finally an index to writing's statements, and interviews of artists:

Robertson, Jack S. Twentieth-Century Artists on Art: an Index to Writings, Statements, and Interviews by Artists, Architects, and Designers. (1996)

[Avery Reference N 6490 R5471]

Articles. (Online: Tab on lower part of Columbia Library Web)

The Articles tab allows you to search through a massive collection of journal and newspaper articles, e-books, and conference proceedings. Rather than search for all of these things in separate databases, Find Articles lets you find them all at once. Find Articles is primarily a database of online content, with some citations to print articles. It does not include newspapers, but you can choose to include newspaper articles from the search results page. Records from CLIO, our online catalog, are not included in Find Articles.

Artlibraries net: virtual catalogue for art history. (Online) – see section 16 below.

Arts & Humanities Citation Index (Resides within Web of Knowledge – scroll down to bottom of first screen). (Online: 1975–to date)

Interdisciplinary index to books and articles. Can also search by citation, to allow you to discover who cites whom.

ATLA Religion Database. (Online: 1949 to date)

Indexes periodicals from 1949, multi-authored works from 1960, book reviews from 1975.

*Avery Index to Architectural Periodicals. (Online: 19th century to date, with some earlier citations back to 1741)

Standard architectural periodical index, which also may include archaeology, mosaics, mural painting, architectural sculpture, etc. Use keyword to retrieve newer and older citations.

BCIN: Bibliographical Database of the Conservation Information Network =Réseau d'Information sur la Conservation. (Online: 1954 to date)

Incorporates v.1-34 (1955-1997) of Art & Archaeology Technical Abstracts (AATA see above). Now it is compiled by the Canadian Conservation Institute (CCI), the International Center for the Study of the Preservation and Restoration of Cultural Property (ICCROM), and the National Archives of Canada.

*BHA: Bibliography of the History of Art. (Online: 1973-2007)

This includes all of RILA (see below) and 1973-1989 of RAA (see below). (BHA is a merger of RAA and RILA.) Index to books and articles on western art history from late antiquity to the mid-20th century, or non-western art as it influences western art of this period. Ceased. Continued by International Bibliography of Art.

Bibliographie de civilisation medievale. (Online-a choice within Brepols' offerings: 1957 to date)

A companion to the index of articles in the International Medieval Bibliography Online, this database indexes books and book reviews on the same topics.

Bibliotheca Hertziana, Max-Planck-Institut. Kataloge der bibliotheca Hertziana in Rom. Sektion 3. Aufsatzautoren-Katalog. (8 vols.)

[Avery Ref N 35 R66 on Lib. Cat. shelves] Author index to 19th to 20th c. periodical articles.

Book Review Digest (Book Review Digest Plus: Online: index, abstracts, some full text from 1983 to date and Book Review Digest Retro: Online: index from 1905 to 1982)

Topics include architecture, archaeology, art, antiques, education, economics, foreign affairs, environment, cinema, current affairs, gender studies, history, language, law, linguistics, literature, music, painting, philosophy, poetry, political science, religion, and theatre.

p.13 Section 5

Columbia University Libraries website. (Online)

In addition to CLIO (Columbia Libraries on-line catalog), CUL-web has a growing number of periodical and newspaper indexes, dictionaries and encyclopedias on general and specific subjects, full-text databases, on-line library catalogs from all over the world, WORLD CAT (OCLC) {Described in Section 17}, image collections, and an ever changing assortment of other services. You only have access to this as a Columbia University affiliate at computers located through-out the libraries and off campus (using your UNI and Password) through any internet connection.

*Custom Search. (Online-LibraryWeb: second item in E-Resources drop-down menu)

Local consolidation of many basic databases (online indexes) sorted by subject, which allows you to perform simple searches in multiple databases. Limits results to 30 citations per database, but you can see how many results each database retrieved.

*Dyabola (listed as Projekt Dyabola). (Online, 1958-to date) (There is also a free version available (ZENON.DAI), which, when searched, gives slightly different results:

<http://opac.dainst.org>)

Useful (Linked in CLIO record): U-Tube tutorial from NYU and a text tutorial from Berkeley. Citations to articles on classical, near eastern, and Egyptian archaeology, Byzantine art history, epigraphy, and numismatics. The print version, Archaeologisches Bibliographie ceased in 1993. Projekt Dyabola also includes other databases covering arts of the antiquities, e.g. Datenbank der attischen Grabreliefs des 5. und 4. Jahrhunderts v. Chr (see below), Census of Antique Art & Architecture known to the Renaissance (see above), Corpus der Antiken Denkmaler, etc.

Essay & General Literature. (Online: 1985 to date)

Indexes essays and articles contained in collections of essays and miscellaneous works published in the United States, Great Britain, and Canada. Areas covered include the humanities and social sciences, with subject coverage ranging from economics, political science, and history to criticism of literary works, drama, and film.

Fasti Archaeologici. (1946-1986) Annual. [Avery Reference AB F26] & now:

FastiOnline. (Online: 2000 to date)

Online version has coverage of current excavations, begun in Italy and now expanding to Albania, Bulgaria, Macedonia, Malta, Morocco, Romania and Serbia. This database will contain a basic record sheet for each site excavated for any period in a given year with, at the discretion of the site director, the interim report for the year, together with any further documentation the director wishes to add. There is no chronological limitation to the sites listed, which range from the Upper Palaeolithic to the nineteenth century, and reports on restoration projects and new museum displays are also welcomed. Sites are searchable by project name, by period and type of site, and by clickable maps which provide an overview of the excavation locations. Links will be provided to a project's web site where possible.

9. MUSEUM AND EXHIBITION CATALOGS

In the Avery Library, most general museum collection catalogs are classed in N 1000 - N 1060. Many are also classed separately by subject. To find exhibition catalogs in CLIO, you can click on the Guided Keyword tab, and insert "exhibitions" as a word in the subject field, then in the next box add either the museum name or a word in the title or a likely subject word. Exhibition catalogs are separately classed by subject. Listed below are a few guides to finding citations to exhibition catalogs.

Bibliography of the History of Art, International Bibliography of Art, Art & Architecture Complete and Art Bibliographies Modern are good indexes to exhibition cats.

Worldcat \(OCLC\) Also a good source for finding museum publications.

12. GEOGRAPHICAL AND TOPOGRAPHICAL SOURCES

Atlases and Gazetteers

Ancient World Mapping Center. (Online)

"The Ancient World Mapping Center exists to promote cartography and geographic information science as essential disciplines within the field of ancient studies. The Home page communicates knowledge of, and enthusiasm for, its subject." With support from the National Endowment for the Humanities (2006-2007), the Ancient World Mapping Center has undertaken a major initiative to develop a functioning, international community of scholars, teachers, students and enthusiasts to collaborate in the updating and expansion of the spatial and historical reference information assembled by the Classical Atlas Project. To underpin these efforts, the Center is developing a web-based, multi-lingual, spatially-enabled community support system, built using open-source software and made freely available for reuse by other projects.

14. SALES/AUCTION CATALOGS AND PROVENANCE INDEXES

Avery Library generally does not collect auction house catalogs, nor do we have a strong collection of price indexes. Such catalogs are collected extensively by several libraries within New York area museums, most notably the Watson Library of the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Frick Art Reference Library. These two libraries also subscribe to a substantial collection of sales catalog indexes online. Both libraries are open to graduate students with student identification. Undergraduates need an introductory letter from a faculty member. Call ahead to make an appointment, and confirm their hours.

Lugt's Répertoire online.

Provides access to two different databases: the Répertoire online database and the Libraries database. The Répertoire online is the online edition of the Répertoire des catalogues de ventes publiques, by Frits Lugt. Recently discovered catalogues have been added, and corrections to the original work have been made. The database can be consulted both in French and in English. Corrections and additions to the database will be constantly added. The Libraries database provides the opportunity to search through libraries with holdings of art sales catalogues. We also have in paper: Répertoire des Catalogues des Ventes Publiques:1600-1925. 3 vols. (1938 to date) [Avery Reference N 3000 AL96]

Provenance Research. (Online)

Website at the J. Paul Getty Center for the History of Art and the Humanities, Santa Monica includes: Getty Provenance Index Database, Provenance Research Resources, Guide to Holocaust-era Research Resources, Project for the Study of Collecting and Provenance. These databases contain indexed transcriptions of materials from auction catalogs and archival inventories of western European works of art, and contain nearly 1,000,000 records that cover the periods from late 16th century to the early 20th century. Search in CLIO as a phrase keyword: Provenance Index to retrieve a list of books we own produced by the Getty Provenance Index. One example: Index of Paintings Sold in the British Isles During the 19th Century. (1989 to date) [Avery Reference N8680 In2]

Online Union Catalogs

WORLD CAT (aka OCLC) on Columbia University Libraries website. This is a database that serves as a major union catalog of records held in libraries around the world, including many major research and academic libraries; archives and museum libraries; law, medical, and theological libraries; art and music libraries; area studies collections; public and corporate libraries; historical societies and book clubs.. Entries describe books, serials, archival collections, manuscripts, maps, music scores, sound recordings, films, photographs, posters, electronic resources, and more. The Catalog extends from the advent of printing to the present. New records are added daily.

Also on Columbia University Libraries website are direct links to the on-line library catalogs of: Cornell University , New York University, New York Public Library, Rutgers University, Yale University, Princeton University, and others under e-resources / databases / "by type:" catalogs.

17. ACCESSING LICENSED AND OPEN ONLINE RESOURCES

Once you have your "UNI" account, allowing you to use Columbia University's email server, you can then gain access within the Columbia University Libraries website to many resources inaccessible on the open web. Among these are indexes such as Art Index, Avery Index, encyclopedias such as Grove Dictionary of Art, Encyclopedia Britannica Online, full text resources such as LEXIS/NEXIS, Proquest Historical Newspapers, JSTOR, Project Muse, image collections such as ArtStor, AccuNet/AP Multimedia Archive and thousands of other internet resources for which we pay a considerable sum per year. Please understand that you will not be able to access most of these materials if you try to get to them through an open web search (e.g. Google, Yahoo, etc.).

On the other hand, here are several extensive, freely accessible online resources for Art History on the Web:

Art history resources on the web (Online)

Presents a collection of art history resources, compiled by Chris Witcombe. Includes the following periods/areas: Prehistoric, ancient Near East, Egyptian, Greek, Roman, late antique, early Europe, Islamic, early Medieval, Gothic, Renaissance, Baroque, 18th century, 19th century, 20th century, contemporary, prints & photographs, Chinese, Japanese, Indian, Southeast Asian, African, the Americas, Pacific cultures, research resources, miscellaneous, museums & galleries.

Arthistoricum.net (Online)

Art and art historical portal realized thanks to financial support from the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft \(German Research Foundation, DFG\), as a common project of the Library of the Zentralinstitut für Kunstgeschichte in Munich and Heidelberg University Library in co-operation with the Institute for Art History of the LMU Munich (chair Professor Dr. Hubertus Kohle) together with the historical network historicum.net and further partners. arthistoricum.net focuses the core competencies of the co-operating institutions into a fundamental platform for research and teaching. It includes the following sections: Electronic Journals Library, ARTicles online-Art historical articles from e-journals, artilibraries.net (listed below), Art historical institutes, etc.

CODART (Online: <http://www.codart.nl/>)

An International Council for curators of Dutch and Flemish Art. This site is self-described as the best guide to Dutch and Flemish art in museums worldwide.
