Biography

Beverly Wildung was born on August 4, 1932 to a middle class Presbyterian family in St. Paul, Minnesota. Her undergraduate studies were completed in 1954 at Macalaster College, where she studied theology with Robert McAfee Brown. She furthered her studies and ultimately obtained a Masters of Religious Education at Union Theological Seminary in 1956, under the guidance of Reinhold Niebuhr and John Bennett. After graduation, Wildung moved to California to work as a Presbyterian university pastor at Berkeley.

Beverly Wildung returned to Union in 1961 to pursue a Bachelor of Divinity degree and commenced her PhD in Christian Social Ethics, under the mentorship of Roger Shinn and John Bennett, in 1963. In 1966, she became an instructor of Christian Ethics and a year later she married James Harrison. Beverly Harrison was also appointed the Assistant Dean of students, a role she filled until 1971, where she found herself offering pastoral support to the small number of women students attending Union. This led to her involvement in the emerging issue of the marginalization of women in graduate theological studies. After receiving her Ph.D. in 1975, Harrison's courses covered a broad range of topics including: Niebuhrian ethics, feminist social theory, sexuality, economic ethics, liberation theology, and various women's justice issues. Harrison served as President of the Society of Christian Ethics in 1983, the first woman to be elected to that position.

She received tenure at Union Theological Seminary in 1980 after a protracted controversy with the administration over the publishing requirements for tenure. Although Harrison had published an extensive number of articles, she had yet to publish her first book. Students rallied around Harrison, boycotting registration and calling for the tenure to be approved. When Harrison became the Caroline Williams Beard Professor of Christian Ethics in 1986, her inaugural lecture, "The Power of Anger in the Work of Love," became a touchstone for women's groups around the world, and is now considered a classic work in Christian ethics. She was also a founding member of the Feminist Ethics Consultation of the Northeast, an organization dedicated to mentoring women within the fields of feminist religious studies.

The issue of abortion was an ongoing focus for Harrison. The 1983 publication of her book, Our Right to Choose: Toward a New Ethic of Abortion, added a significant dimension to the abortion debate. The years that followed were full of editorials, speaking engagements, and newspaper debates from all sides of the issue. Harrison also published Making the Connections: Essays in Feminist Social Ethics, in 1985, and co-authored God's Fierce Whimsy: Christian Feminism and Theological Education in 1985 with a diverse group of women colleagues known as "The Mud Flower Collective." In 1986, she co-edited The Public Vocation of Christian Ethics. Upon her retirement in 1999, several of her former students and colleagues initiated and coordinated the publishing of Justice in the Making: Feminist Social Ethics (2004), a collection of previously printed articles and several unpublished essays by Harrison.

During retirement, Harrison lived within an intentional community of women at Redbud Springs located outside of Brevard, North Carolina. Harrison spent her retirement with her life companion of thirty-two years, fellow religious scholar Carter Heyward, and beloved Pomeranian 'Shelly Pom' and dedicated her time to volunteering for the Democratic Party, participating in the Mountain Community of St. Clare, and continuing her mentorship of former students, pastors, and activists from across the globe.

Professor Emeritus Harrison, referred to as "the mother of Christian feminist social ethics," died on December 15th 2012 in North Carolina. A Memorial Service, attended by students, colleagues and loved ones, was held at Union Theological Seminary in New York on March 1st 2013 to celebrate her groundbreaking work in the field of Christian ethics and continued dedication to women's justice issues. The Society of Christian Ethics awarded Harrison with the prestigious Lifetime Achievement Award the year following her death. She was also granted honorary doctorates from Macalester College in 2006 and Chicago Theological Seminary in 2010.

Collection Scope and Content Note

The Papers of Beverly Wildung Harrison (BWH) consist of course materials, lectures and correspondence of over her 30 years teaching Christian Ethics at Union Theological Seminary. The majority of the collection consists of course materials, notes, and correspondence related to Harrison's teaching career. The papers also include personal and professional correspondence, lecture notes, Union Theological Seminary faculty committee minutes, published articles, conference speeches, materials related to her retirement in Redbud Springs, North Carolina, and clippings from magazines and newspapers.

This collection is divided into 10 series as follows:

- Series 1: Educational and Biographical, 1927-2013 (10 boxes, 2 Outsized boxes, 8 linear ft.)

This series contains materials from Beverly's undergraduate and graduate courses, including course notes and papers, and college transcripts. Biographical information includes a family history of the Wildung name, newspaper clippings on her parents and sister, and several articles written about Beverly's work as professor and ethicist.

- Series 2: Correspondence, 1950-2012 (9 boxes, 4.5 linear ft)

This series contains both professional and personal correspondence and is largely arranged in chronological order. Many letters contain references by the writer to a lecture or course taught by Dr. Harrison and others express appreciation for her life changing words. Much of the correspondence comes from 1986, the year Harrison became the Caroline Williams Beaird Professor of Christian Ethics. Other correspondence refers to Harrison's ongoing relationships with former students and colleagues including Marvin Ellison, Emilie Townes, Rebecca Todd Peters and Carter Heyward. The series also contains personal correspondence including birthday cards, letters and postcards.

Please Note: Series 2 boxes 8 and 9 are restricted until January 2064

- Series 3: Teaching, 1952-2004 (19 boxes, 9.5 linear ft)

This series contains course materials from Harrison's over 30 years of teaching.

This series consists of two sub-series. Sub-series 3A consists of material related to Harrison's tenure at Union Theological Seminary from 1952-1999. Sub-series 3B includes course material related to Harrison's teaching at other institutions.

Material in this series includes syllabi, required book lists, library reserve articles, lecture notes, thematic files related to courses taught and student work. Beverly hand wrote her lecture notes for her classes, using letter and legal size yellow lined pads, sometimes three-holed paper and often on recycled memos. Beverly often inserted the syllabi from her earlier courses into those taught in later years, perhaps using them as a reference tool. She also retained much student work which was un-annotated and grouped by course.

- Sub-Series 3A: Teaching at Union Theological Seminary, 1952-2004 (17 boxes, 8.5 linear ft.)

Sub-series 3A comprises the bulk of the collection, containing course materials from Harrison's many years of teaching at Union Theological Seminary as the Caroline Williams Beaird Professor of Ethics. Course materials are listed by the course number and title and arranged chronologically. Thematic files are grouped with courses on the same topic. Student work is arranged by class and theses and dissertations are also included in chronological order.

- Sub-Series 3B: Non-UTS Teaching, 1970s-2002 (2 boxes, 1 linear ft)
 Sub-series 3B contains course materials from classes taught at other institutions including Episcopal Divinity School and Iliff School of Theology.
Please Note: Series 3B Box 2 contains student records, which are restricted by FERPA legislation. See Access section p2 for details.
- Series 4: UTS Administration and Events, [196?]-2008 (3 boxes, 1.5 linear ft)
 This series contains faculty memos, applications for various research grants, memorabilia from Beverly's installation as the Caroline Williams Beaird Professor of Ethics in April of 1983, including event programs and her inaugural lecture.
 It also includes materials related to Beverly's retirement from Union Theological Seminary in 2003. In addition, this series contains many letters from colleagues including Cornel West, Rosemary Radford Ruether, Tom Driver, and Dorothee Sölle particularly in support of Harrison receiving tenure.
- Series 5: Sermons and Addresses, 1965-2011 (7 boxes, 3.5 linear ft)
 This series contains handwritten and typed sermons, full text and annotated, from various congregations and chapel services where Harrison was invited to preach. Three sermons not preached by BWH which she kept in her files are also included here. There are addresses from speaking engagements, with annotations often found on successive drafts of the same address.
- Series 6: Writings, 1959-2009 (5 boxes, 1 half box, 2.75 linear ft)
 This series contains Harrison's writings. It is divided into three headings: books, articles and book reviews. The first heading includes notes, manuscripts and correspondence related to Harrison's books, Our Right to Choose, Making the Connections and Justice in the Making. The articles heading includes copies of articles and annotated drafts from articles published in various journals. It also includes some drafts of articles never published. Lastly, the book reviews include books Harrison reviewed for various publications. The series consists of handwritten and printed copies of papers and articles. Many articles have annotations; some have notes from her readers.
- Series 7: Professional Associations and Conferences, 1961-2009 (8 boxes, 4 lin. ft)
 This series contains materials from the Society of Christian Ethics and the American Academy of Religion [AAR]: conference programs, papers given at the conferences, assorted correspondence. Also found here are papers from the Journal of Feminist Studies in Religion [JFSR] and the Feminist Ethics Consultation, which Harrison founded.
- Series 8: Subject Files, 1970s-1990s (9 Record Cartons, 11.25 lin.ft)
 Harrison collected research information on her areas of concentration and labeled them 'Subject Files.' These topics include: abortion; women's reproductive rights; sexuality; other women's issues. These files are not processed in detail. The series contains newspaper clippings, printed articles, excerpts from magazines and Harrison's own notes.

- Series 9: Photographs, [195?-200?] (2 boxes, 1 linear ft)

This series contains some early photographs in black and white but the majority is in color from the 1970s to 1990s. It contains amateur photographs, informal and personal, showing family and friends, pets, groups, travel, nature and landscape around Deer-Isle, ME and Redbud Springs, NC. There are also a large number of photos related to Harrison's time at Union Theological Seminary. When possible, photographs are defined by decade or period of life.

- Series 10: General, [197?] – 2012 (1 box, 4 Outsized horizontal boxes, 2 media boxes, 8.5 linear ft)

Series 10 contains memorabilia including awards and certificates received by Harrison. In addition, this series contains two boxes of audio-cassette and VHS tapes recording Harrison's lectures and sermons. Two horizontal boxes also contain a collection of photographs displayed at the Union Theological Exhibition for Harrison featuring a variety of photographs with her colleagues at Union and JFSR. Lastly, the Marvin Ellison accession is included in this series and contains Harrison's course materials and published papers from mainly the 1980s and 1990s.

Processing

When the Burke Library acquired Harrison's papers, an attempt was made to maintain the original order she imposed throughout the course of her career.

Folded materials were flattened. Newspaper clippings were photocopied on acid free paper. Staples, rubber bands, and metal clips were removed and replaced with plastic clips. All materials were placed in acid-free folders and boxes. All photographs and film were preserved in mylar inserts.
