Administrative Information

- Provenance: The Henry Pitney Van Dusen Papers were donated to the Burke Library in multiple accruals following the Van Dusens' deaths in 1975. That year, a portion of Dr. Van Dusen's papers from Princeton University had been housed as his library, and were donated to the then-titled Union Theological Seminary Library care of Derek Van Dusen. The processing of Van Dusen's papers has been an ongoing effort dating as early as 1975, when an initial inventory of Van Dusen's ecumenical correspondence was conducted. The collection – which in its entirety forms part of the Union Theological Seminary Archives -- was processed beginning in 2009 and completed in 2017 as part of an archival processing project at the Burke Library funded with the support of the Henry Luce Foundation and the E. Rhodes and Leona B. Carpenter Foundation. Additional inventories and legacy information are included in the Burke archives' accession file.
- Access: Archival papers are available to registered readers for consultation by appointment only. Please contact archives staff by email to burkespecial@library.columbia.edu or by postal mail to The Burke Library address on page 1, as far in advance as possible. Burke Library staff is available for inquiries or to request a consultation on archival or special collections research.
- Access Restrictions: The collection is unrestricted to readers, though some materials may be in a fragile condition, which may restrict handling. Additionally, some materials marked RESTRICTED in the contents listing denote that those materials are restricted to research due to the nature of the documents.
- Preferred Citation: Item description, UTS1: Henry Pitney Van Dusen Papers, 1878-1975, Series #, box #, and folder #, The Burke Library Archives at Union Theological Seminary, Columbia University in the City of New York.

Biographical Note

The Reverend Dr. Henry Pitney Van Dusen (1897-1975) was a world ecumenist, public and religious figure and 11th president of Union Theological Seminary from 1945 from 1963. Van Dusen was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on December 11th, 1897. The son of Philadelphia lawyer George P. Van Dusen and Katherine J. Pitney, Henry Pitney Van Dusen (or "Pit" as he became known by) was descended from one of the first families to settle in the colonial city of New Amsterdam during the colonial period.

Van Dusen attended William Penn Charter School in Philadelphia, graduating with highest honors in 1915. He later received his A.B. from Princeton University in 1919, where he excelled academically and in campus-related activities throughout his undergraduate career. He served on the University debate team for three years before becoming captain of the debating team, was chairman of the Undergraduate Council, worked as chief counselor at the Princeton summer camp, secretary of the Philadelphian Society from 1919 to 1921, and was chairman of the International Polity Club and the Bric a Brac Board. He graduated Phi Beta Kapa, was Ivy Orator for Class Day and Valedictorian at his commencement in 1921. Van Dusen continued to sustain professional ties to the university, namely through serving on the Board of Trustees (one of the Board's longest-serving members at thirty-four years) and through his formation of the Theological Discussion Group in 1934, which included contemporary luminaries such as Paul Tillich and Reinhold Niebuhr.

For one year, Van Dusen attended New College in Edinburgh (1921-1922) before settling in New York City to complete his B.D. from Union Theological Seminary in 1922. He served as student body president and graduated summa cum laude from the seminary in 1924, and was subsequently ordained in the Presbytery of New York on April 27, 1924. Van Dusen's ordination was later challenged by the conservative Presbyterian General Assembly related to Van Dusen's claims not to believe in Christ's literal virgin birth. John Foster Dulles provided legal aid in this matter, arguing that only individual parishes had the right to dispute the qualifications of the minister assigned to them. In the two years following his studies at Union, Van Dusen taught at a number of American universities, and held secretary positions at the YMCA between 1924 and 1926.

Van Dusen's orientation in world religious discourse upheld an ethic of internationalism wherein the church should broadly see itself as a "nucleus of world community". In 1926, Van Dusen joined the UTS faculty as an instructor in systematic theology and philosophy of religion and then assistant professor from 1928 to 1931, tenures he held before leaving New York to pursue his Ph.D. at the University of Edinburgh, which he earned in 1932. While studying in Scotland, Van Dusen met Elizabeth Coghill Bartholomew at Inverness, the daughter of a late cartographer to the English king; they married on June 19, 1931.

After earning his doctorate, the Van Dusens returned to New York, where Van Dusen rejoined the faculty at Union, marking the beginning of an historic three-decade long career at the seminary. He held a number of teaching positions before succeeding Henry Sloane Coffin as President in 1945, including Associate Professor of Systematic Theology and Philosophy of Religion (1931-1936); Roosevelt Professor of Systematic Theology (1936); Dean of Students from 1931 to 1939. Concurrent with his term serving as president of Union, Van Dusen was President of Auburn Theological Seminary from 1945 to 1963, and Lamont Professor of Christian Theology there from 1961 to 1963, and Emeritus Professor from 1963 on. Following his formal retirement in 1963, Van Dusen was named President Emeritus of Union from 1963 until his death in 1975.

As early as the Princeton years, “Pit”, as he was lovingly called, was an early advocate of the social gospel approach to religious studies in higher education as well as service to the global community. Van Dusen was an emblematic advocate for religious freedom in theological education, pragmatic both in his teaching and administration as President that positioned him as a sound, authoritative representative of modern religious education in the decades following the Second World War. He rose fluidly through the faculty ranks at Union, and upon assuming the presidency, Van Dusen made a number of formative changes at the seminary, namely introducing psychiatry and religious drama programs to the religious studies curriculum, and fostering the creation of Union’s School of Sacred Music. As former Union professors M. Searle Bates and Wilhelm Pauck remembered of Van Dusen, “The worldwide outreach of Union Theological Seminary in our day is largely the fruit of his efforts.”

Van Dusen was infatuated with sailing and travel. He sailed mostly around Sorrento, and his missionary and recreational travels took him to all corners of the world. With the Madras Missionary Conference, Van Dusen embarked on a “round-the-world” trip from 1938 to 1939, visited China for the United Board for Christian Colleges in 1946, traveled throughout the Asian and African continents on behalf of the United Board for Christian Colleges in China and the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church (FMPC-USA), completed another global trip in connection with the Third Assembly of World Council of Church in 1961, and traveled extensively throughout South America, Southeast Asia, and the South Pacific into the late 1960s.

Over the course of his work and travels, Van Dusen, a seemingly inexhaustible worker, also held a number of significant organizational roles in many ecumenical organizations. His formal organizational affiliations are as follows:

Within these roles, Van Dusen provided leadership and performed frequent delegate work, notably with the Oxford Conference on Church, Community, and State (1937); the Madras World Missionary Conference (1938); the International Missionary Council (1947); the World Council of Churches first and subsequent assemblies (Amsterdam, 1948-1961); World Council of Churches Central Committee (1952-1953). Within the World Council of Churches, Van Dusen served as a member of the Provisional Committee and Administrative Committee (1939-1948), chairman of the Study Committee from 1939-1951; chairman of the Study Committee for U.S.A. member churches from 1940-1948, and chairman of the Joint Committee of W.C.C. and the International Missionary Council from 1954 to 1961.

Van Dusen was an extensive author of works related to ecumenism and significant cultural figures of his day, from extensive texts ruminating on the meaning of life in the context of world Christianity (e.g. For the Healing of Nations: Impressions of Christianity Around the World [1940]) to extensive historical work surrounding the life and work of former United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, whose own work entailed a Van Dusen-esque belief that "the road to holiness necessarily passes through the world of action" (W.H. Auden quoting Dag Hammarskjold). Van Dusen's total writing, publishing and editorial contributions to the field are as follows:

Ecumenical Review

Following Van Dusen's retirement from Union in 1963, he and Elizabeth (nee Elizabeth Coghill Bartholomew) settled in Princeton, New Jersey. His vocational work in the global Christian community continued through work on various boards and committees, and various traveling teaching positions. On Reverend Van Dusen's final years, former acting UTS President Roger L.

McCathern, Lossin, Rutigliano, Nieto; November 8, 2017

Shinn noted, “He [Van Dusen] had a very strong belief in immortality. His attitude was that, when your time is up, when you have lived out the possibilities, it is all right to stop, and go on to the next life.” This observation is prescient with the understanding that the Van Dusens were active members of the Euthanasia Society. Following a debilitating stroke in 1970 and Mrs. Van Dusen’s worsening arthritic condition, the Van Dusens elected to take their lives together by taking overdoses of sleeping pills. Elizabeth Van Dusen died immediately; Reverend Van Dusen suffered a fatal heart attack two weeks later, dying in hospital on February 13, 1975. As Alexander Leitch notes in A Princeton Companion (1978), “A letter they left for their three sons and other relatives and friends said that they had led happy lives, but that increasingly poor health no longer permitted them to do what they wanted to do, and that they were not afraid to die. They acknowledged that some would be disappointed, and asked for their understanding”. The Van Dusens were survived by three sons: John George (b. 1932), Henry Hugh (b.1934), and Derek Bartholomew (b. 1936).

During his lifetime, this exceptional world churchman and iconic figure in world Christianity was accorded more than fifteen honorary doctorate degrees: New York University (S.T.D., 1945), Amherst College (D.D., 1946), Edinburgh University (D.D., 1946), Oberlin College (D.D., 1947), Yale University (D.D., 1947), Heidelberg College (D.D., 1950), Queens University (Kingston Ontario, D.D., 1952), Harvard University (D.D., 1954), Westminster Theological Seminary (S.T.D., 1956), Columbia University (S.T.D., 1956), Dartmouth College (D.D., 1956), Jewish Theological Seminary (Litt.D., 1958), Bates College (L.H.D., 1959), Colgate University (D.D., 1960), Protestant Episcopal Theological Seminary (D.D., 1963), and the Pacific School of Religions (D.D., 1963). These accolades, in tandem with a rich family history and encyclopedic contributions to modern Christian thinking, speak clearly to Van Dusen’s imminent position at the center of 20th century history at Union Theological Seminary and in the field of modern Christianity. Henry Pitney “Pit” Van Dusen’s papers assembled here evoke a lifetime of scholarship and thought around how Christianity can be lived on an individual and global scale.

Collection Scope and Content Note

These papers consist primarily of textual materials, bound volumes, scrapbooks, and photographs covering correspondence, political writings, articles and reviews, organizational minutes and delegation materials, ephemera, memoranda, commemorative materials, awards, accolades and degrees, and personal materials representing the expansive life and work of Henry Pitney “Pit” Van Dusen. Materials were arranged variously according to their original order, with order imposed chronologically, alphabetically or thematically where no original order was ascertained.

The collection is organized in twelve series covering the following key themes:

- Series 1: Union Theological Seminary, 1922-1972 (14 boxes, 6.75 lin. ft.):
This series contains papers relating to Henry Pitney Van Dusen's time at Union Theological Seminary, from his time as a student through his tenure as president and continued involvement with the institution in retirement.

Subseries 1A: Education, 1922-1924

This subseries includes notebooks from Van Dusen's time as a student at Union Theological Seminary. The notes are on courses taught by E.W. Lyman on "Doctrine of the Person of Christ," E.F. Scott "The Person of Christ in the New Testament," G.A. J. Ross on "Homiletics" and "The Pauline Letters" and E.F. Scott on "The New Testament Theology." Note that Series 11, Box 6 contains additional education-related materials that were processed at a later time.

Subseries 1B: Teaching, 1927-1963

This subseries contains papers related to courses taught by Van Dusen as well as other faculty members of Union Theological Seminary from 1927 to 1963.

Material in this subseries is presented in two sections. The first section contains bibliographies, course outlines, examinations and syllabi as well as student papers and correspondence between Van Dusen and other faculty members concerning courses. Courses include "Systematic Theology," "Philosophy of Religion," "Ecumenical Christianity," and "Structure of Christian Theology."

The second section is devoted to narrative lecture notes (some of them quite extensive) on important theological concepts and persons that are organized by topic or individual. For example, "Church and State in Christian History" and "Revelation and Religious Knowledge" or "Plato" and "William James."

As with supplemental materials in Series 1A, additional materials relating to Van Dusen's teaching can be found in Series 11.

Subseries 1C: Presidency, 1926-1971

This subseries includes papers relating to the administration of Union Theological Seminary during Van Dusen's presidency as well as records relating to his continued involvement in the institution following his retirement in 1963. These materials are various and include, but are not limited to: Financial reports and funding proposals; reports to the board of directors; pamphlets about U.T.S. in New York City and activity abroad; proposal and budget for the establishment of a program in Psychotherapy and Religion; correspondence; alumni records and photographs; U.T.S.'s Harlem economic development projects ("Black Funds"); published articles and official documents relating to Van Dusen's retirement in 1963; and the appointment of the Episcopal Bishop J. Moore Moseley in 1971.

- Series 2: Princeton University, 1925-1972 (8 boxes, 4 lin. ft.)

This series contains papers relating to Henry Pitney Van Dusen's time at Princeton University. It is divided into two subseries. Subseries A contains papers relating, either directly or indirectly, to his service as a trustee of Princeton University. Subseries B contains records of a semi-annual colloquium on a variety of theological topics as well as the minutes, papers and publications from "The International Roundtable of Christian Leaders (1943).

Subseries 2A: Princeton Board of Trustees, 1925-1972

The papers in this series are related to Van Dusen's tenure as a trustee of Princeton University. It includes records and correspondence concerning the granting of honorary degrees, the design and funding of the Princeton Hospital, the trustee subcommittee on international studies and international affairs more broadly.

The papers in this series reflect a transitional cultural moment and the changing interests and expectations of Princeton's student body in relation to its institution. Of note are extensive records of Princeton's nascent concern with the education of women and the possibility of coeducation. Commissioned reports, pamphlets, programs and committee notes, as well as correspondence reflecting Van Dusen's misgivings about co-education are included.

The other major contemporary concern reflected in this series is institution of apartheid in South Africa. Calls for divestment occupied the student body and the administration in 1968 and 1969. Included in this portion of the subseries are investment indexes, articles, reports and correspondence between Van Dusen and his colleagues.

Additional materials relating to the Princeton years can be found in Series 11 ("Personal"), throughout the series and specifically in box 7, which holds materials relating to the collection that were processed at a later date.

Subseries 2B: Theological Discussion Group, 1934-[1961]

The Theological Discussion Group was a symposium established through the efforts of Van Dusen and his colleagues in 1934. Over the next twenty years, it met regularly (generally bi-annually) to discuss theological topics, questions and problems. The format, while it occasionally varied, consisted of members' papers on a general theme and assigned respondents. Topics include, but are not limited to, "Redemption," "The Church's View of Itself," "The Significance of Jesus Christ," and "Christian Ethics."

Membership in the discussion group was by invitation by committee decision. Notable members included: John Bennett, Georgia Harkness, John Knox, John Mackay, Reinhold Niebuhr, and Paul Tillich.

This series also contains the papers of The International Roundtable of Christian Leaders. A series of meetings and collection of writings that occurred over the course of 1943 (likely in response to World War II) and resulted in a published pamphlet entitled "A Christian Message on World Order."

- Series 3: Foreign Affairs, 1916-1969 (4 boxes, 1.75 lin. ft.)

This series contains correspondence, articles and letters to the editor written by Henry Pitney Van Dusen, as well as newspaper and magazine clippings, pamphlets, newsletters and memoranda relating to a range of international issues.

Subseries 3A: Vietnam, Asia, Africa [1932-1969]

This subseries includes correspondence and documents related to a wide range of 'foreign affairs' including, but not limited to, medical and other missionary and relief work in China, Japanese Aggression [sic] Soviet Russia (including several issues of Pravda in translation), Japan, and seminary libraries abroad. A substantial portion of this subseries is devoted to the war in Vietnam and the policy of apartheid in South Africa.

Because Van Dusen served on the Board of Trustees of Princeton University during this time, the letters and articles relating to Vietnam are concerned with the Trustees' public position on the war. Van Dusen supported the war in Vietnam and was concerned with the publicizing of anti-war positions taken by certain members. In addition to newspaper clippings and letters, there are comprehensive surveys of individual board members' positions conducted by Van Dusen.

The documents concerning apartheid in South Africa are similarly a matter of trustee business. Van Dusen was staunchly opposed to the institution of apartheid and supported both a publicly anti-apartheid position on the part of Princeton's board as well as an active divestment campaign. There are, therefore, many letters and a number of memoranda, letters to the editor and editorials composed by Van Dusen as well as documents relating to banks and Princeton's investment portfolio. The Trustees ultimately voted to remain officially neutral on the issue of apartheid and ignored calls for divestment.

Subseries 3B: Great Britain, Middle East [1930-1969] and School Notebooks, 1916-[1969]

This subseries contains several notebooks kept by Van Dusen as an undergraduate between 1916 and 1919 on topics such as American History, Ethics, and Geology. It also includes pamphlets and correspondence relating to Great Britain and the destruction of London during World War II as well as files that relate to World War II more generally.

The series also contains a rich collection of correspondence, newspaper clippings, letters to the editor, pamphlets and memoranda relating to the 1967 Arab-Israeli war (also called the Six-Day war). Van Dusen was decidedly against political Zionism and publicly positioned himself against the actions of the Israeli government and military during this particular conflict.

The letters and other documents reflect Van Dusen's position on the war, and heated disagreements with colleagues and strangers. A second and almost as extensive set of correspondence and writings addresses the position on Israel and political Zionism within the United States as well as accusations of anti-semitism directed at black radicals. Again, Van Dusen seems opposed to majority opinion. This correspondence, which is slightly later than the writings on the Six Day War, was less publicized after the unpleasant and often aggressive responses his writing on the conflict had generated.

- Series 4: Subject Sources 1912-1974 (11 boxes, 5.5 lin. ft.)

This series contains the personal work of HPVD, including subject sources, correspondence, information about his travels and collections from his school days. The organization of this series had not previously been organized by Van Dusen, and his subject sources are organized by topic or idea.

The bulk of the subject resources consist of clippings from magazines and newspapers. The series contains collected quotes often typed onto index cards for easy reference. Correspondence from friends, colleagues and co-workers is also contained in this series, including from John Foster Dulles, Eleanor Roosevelt, and Adlai Stevenson. Included is a hand-edited typescript from Reinhold Niebuhr.

The Initial folders are entitled Subject Sources by Theme: Clippings & Typescripts, and the quotes within these folders are arranged thematically from “Anthropomorphism to Will of God.”

This series also contains Debate Notes, about such topics as whether the U.S. should have income tax, whether women in Pennsylvania to be granted suffrage, if U.S. should permanently retain the Philippines, and if U.S. is justified in permitting exportation of war munitions by private individuals to belligerent states.

Additional materials pertinent to this series were processed at a later date and including in Series 11, under the subheading “Fall 2017 Addition”.

- Series 5: Committees and Conferences, 1931-1961 (59 boxes, 29.5 lin. ft.)

This series contains correspondence, articles, addresses/speeches, meeting information and other such materials related to the various Ecumenical organizations of which Van Dusen was a key participant, leading to and then including the World Council of Churches (WCC).

Subseries 5A: World Council of Churches – General, 1939-1961

This subseries contains correspondence, addresses, meeting information, and selected correspondence relating to the World Council of Churches -- records of both meeting planning, and the issues covered at the meetings themselves.

Subseries 5B: World Council of Churches Working Committee on Faith and Order -- Study Dept. Committee, Bossey, 1951-1954

This subseries contains documents related to committees within the World Council of Churches, specifically the Working Committee on Faith and Order of the Study Department Committee, and its meeting at the Ecumenical Institute in Bossey, Switzerland in August 1953. This subseries contains a typewritten letter from T.S. Eliot, amid correspondence about the World Council of Churches' Advisory Committee.

Subseries 5C: World Council of Churches Correspondence, 1944-1946, 1947-48, and China, 1946

This subseries contains documents, primarily correspondence, related to the workings of and committees within the World Council of Churches, particularly the Study Department, the Study Program, and the Study Commission. It contains correspondence with the Rockefeller Foundation, and from Princeton University President Harold Dodds.

Subseries 5D: Other Organizations [1933-1972]

This subseries concerns documents, including correspondence, programs, and clippings from various Theological, Ecumenical, or Academic organizations, including the Young Men's Christian Association (YMCA), the National Council of Student Christian Associations, the World's Student Christian Federation, the American Theological Society, the Pacific Conference of Churches, and the Oxford Group Movement, as well as from various Universities, such as Princeton Theological Seminary, Smith College and Vassar College.

Boxes 8 through 12 require the following context: The 1937 Oxford Life and Work Conference, "Church, Community and State", approved a merger with Faith & Order that would form the World Council of Churches. The International Missionary Council (IMC) emerged from the World Missionary Conference held at Edinburgh in 1910 and was officially established in London in 1921. A New York office was established in 1924. IMC linked some 14 interdenominational associations of missionary sending societies - such as the Division of Foreign Missions of the National Council of Church of Christ, USA - with some 16 interdenominational field bodies, such as the National Christian Council of India. It devoted itself to the study and resolution of such issues as missionary freedom, general and theological education, opium addiction, labour, slavery, racial discrimination, the church in rural and industrial society, home and family life, and - from very early on - the emerging ecumenical movement. The IMC became associated with the World Council of Churches in 1939, and, in 1961, it became integrated with the WCC as its Commission on World Mission and Evangelism.

Subseries 5E: Business Correspondence, 1931-74

This subseries contains professional correspondence between Van Dusen and various organizations, publications and individuals, on a variety of ecumenical and political issues. Selected correspondences include letters to and from The New York Times, the International Missionary Council, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, and the economist Alexander Sachs. It also contains a few bits of personal or financial correspondence, such as a series of letters concerning the Estate of Katherine P. Van Dusen.

Subseries 5F: Christian Colleges in China, 1939-51

This subseries concerns documents, including correspondence, programs, and meeting information relating to the Organization, Christian Colleges in China, and related groups.

Subseries 5G: Committees -- 2017 Addition, 1910-1960

This subseries, which was formerly its own Series (Series 11), was added to Series 6 during its Processing. It concerns many committees from the second half of Van Dusen's career, such as the American Association of Theological School, the Interdenominational Theological Center, the Foundation for Theological Education in Southeast Asia, and the Boston Theological Institute.

- Series 6: Dag Hammarskjold Research Material, [195?] - 1971 (8 boxes, 4 lin. ft.)

This series unites all of the material in Van Dusen's papers that pertain to Dag Hammarskjold, the subject of Van Dusen's book, Dag Hammarskjold: The Statesman and his Faith. This series contains articles, manuscript draft chapters, and correspondence.

- Series 7: Correspondence, 1917-1974 (15 boxes, 7.5 lin. ft.)

This series contains personal and professional correspondence from Van Dusen throughout his life, on a variety of issues. Selected correspondence includes family matters, such as the birth of his son, John George, as well as letters to/from Adlai Stevenson, Henry Sloane Coffin, and John Foster Dulles. Contains Van Dusen's Time Magazine cover story.

- Series 8: Writings, 1927- [196?] (24 boxes, 12 lin. ft.)

This series includes unpublished drafts, notes, published periodical, editorial, monograph projects conducted over the course of Van Dusen's career.

Subseries 8A: Articles and Reviews – Alphabetical

This subseries contains articles by Van Dusen (arranged alphabetically by title), as well as Book Reviews by Van Dusen and reviews by others of Van Dusen's works. This section also contains articles (including the Time Magazine cover story) about Van Dusen, and his work.

Subseries 8B: Books – Alphabetical by book title

This subseries contains manuscript and chapter drafts and revisions from his books, including unpublished manuscripts. It also contains select correspondence about these books.

Subseries 8C: Public Engagement

This subseries contains transcribed broadcasts, speeches, debates, and various letters to the editors of various publications, about a variety of issues.

- Series 9: Sermons and Addresses, 1910-1969 (20 boxes, 10 lin. ft.)

This series contains sermons, speeches, and select essays organized by topic (with Van Dusen's original order preserved). This series also contains prayers written by Van Dusen and Henry Sloane Coffin.

- Series 10: Personal, 1878-1969 (14 boxes [6 oversize], 22 lin. ft.)

This series contains personal notebooks, photographs, subject files and series relevant to Van Dusen's life, family, and leisure time. Among these materials are four banker boxes of fragile scrapbook ranging from Van Dusen's years at William Penn Charter School to his retirement from Union Theological Seminary. Most of these scrapbooks take the form of compiled newsletter clippings, personal and professional correspondence (pasted into broadside sheets), as well as photographs. This series also contains 1.5 linear feet of additional archival materials that were processed at a later date; these materials are cross-referenced to the original series and can be found toward the end of this series. OS-14, the latest accrual of personal materials, contains a family scrapbook compiled by Mrs. Van Dusen circa 1881, an additional scrapbook of newspaper clippings compiled circa 1933, a class photograph taken from the First Preparatory School Conference in Blairstown, New Jersey, dated June 23-30, 1916, and a typescript thesis written by Duncan W. Van Dusen, a relation of HPVD's through the paternal side of his family, in fulfillment of his bachelor's degree from Princeton University. That thesis is entitled "Ut Unum Sint: A study of some of the relations between the Anglican and Roman Catholic and Orthodox Churches 1896-1926".

Processing

Metal clips and staples were removed from materials and folded items were flattened. Materials were placed in new acid-free folders and boxes. Acidic items were separated from one another by interleaving with acid-free paper as needed.
